RESUME THE ASSAULT

JAPANESE FORCES MAKE DES-PERATE ATTACKS ON PORT

ARTHUR DEFENSES.

RESULT IS NOT YET KNOWN

TOKIO OFFICIAL REPORTS SAY

SIEGE IS PROGRESSING SATISFACTORILY.

Chefoo, Nov. 21.—The general attack on Port Arthur was resumed Nov. 18 and 19, according to the report of persons arriving here from Dalney. They say that the Japanese are so secretive that it is difficult to learn the true facts. Even the officers detailed to work at the base do not know what their comrades at the front are doing. Nov. 16 a peculiarly heavy explosion shook every ship lying at Dalney. The explosion was ascribed to the blowing up of land mines or a magazine.

ON PREARRANGED PLANS.

Jap Operations Against Port Arthur
Proceeding Satisfactorily.

Tokio, Nov. 21.—A dispatch from the army besieging Port Arthur dated Nov. 19, says:

"During the bombardment this afternoon a shell from a Japanese naval gun exploded a Russian magazine near the arsenal.

"Our operations against all the forts are proceeding as prearranged from Manchurian headquarters.

"At noon today we shelled the Russian infantry engaged in entrenching on the Reluchangtun and also infantry in the rear of the villages, causing them to flee in confusion.

"In other directions there is no change to note."

FLED IN CONFUSION.

Marshal Oyama Reports Defeat of Body of Russians.

Tokio, Nov. 21.—Increasing activity along the Shakhe river seems to indicate the imminence of another great battle.

The Russian feints evidently intended to draw a Japanese attack are uniformly repulsed.

Army headquarters has received the following report from Field Marshal Oyama's headquarters, dated Nov. 18:

"At dawn today a detachment of the enemy made an attack near Hsinluntun. They were repulsed by us.

"Since this morning the enemy in the vicinity of Shakhe village have indirectly bombarded our positions with mortars and field pieces. They have effected no damage.

"A body of the enemy's infantry were discovered at Hsiamya and Hsiaoyantzu. We shelled them and they fled in confusion to a neighboring village.

"The enemy have burned Huanglanshutu and villages to the southeast on the right bank of the river Hun."

BOTH ARMIES INACTIVE.

No Great Battle Likely Until Port Arthur Falls.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—The suspense engendered by the Japanese attack on Poutiloff hill continues. This movement has proved unsuccessful. It aimed merely to capture a Russian position, but whether it was intended to mask activity at some other point along the front has not yet developed. Some correspondents note what they consider significant Japanese movements on the Russian right and others that a Japanese column is moving fifty or sixty miles eastward; but the opinion in military circles seems to be that no great movement is likely to occur before the fate of Port Arthur is decided. At the same time it is recalled here that General Kuropatkin's great aggressive movement of last month was in full swing a week before the outside world realized what was occurring.

REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVING.

Another General Attack on Port Arthur Imminent.

Chefoo, Nov. 21.—Another attack on Etse mountain is expected to occur Nov. 24, according to Chinese who left Dalney yesterday. The Chinese further report that reinforcements for the Japanese continue to arrive. For the past ten days 1,000 men have arrived daily. On Nov. 14 the Chinese say they saw fifty guns brought into Dalney. Some were broken, others were in good condition. The Japanese said they had captured them. They also saw 150 prisoners, including three officers, brought in. Some of the citizens of Dalney expected that the attack Nov. 24 would be general. Etse mountain being the chief object of the attack. Five more heavy guns recently arrived from Japan.

STRONG RUSSIAN DEFENSES.

Jap Assault on Poutiloff Hill Easily Repulsed.

Mukden, Nov. 21.—The Japanese attack on Poutiloff hill has demonstrated the efficiency of the Russian defensive works. Two battalions engaged in the attack occupied the first line of the Russian trenches, but at the second line were caught in pits and entanglements and exposed to a galling fire. A Russian bayonet attack completed their demoralization.

"There are many rumors of Japanese activity on both banks, but there is nothing tending to show that a general engagement is more imminent than heretofore.

Capture Another Position.

Tokio, Nov. 21.—It is reported that the Japanese, after successfully mining, occupied a counterscarp on Sungshu mountain last Friday.

Kuropatkin Reports All Quiet.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—General Kuropatkin telegraphs that there was no fighting the night of Nov. 18-19.

LOCKS LIKE A SAUSAGE.

Japs Using a Peculiar Missile at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Nov. 21.—The local Russian consul has received from Port Arthur a letter describing the use by the Japanese of a peculiar missile. This missile looks like a long sausage. The Japanese throw it into the trenches and it bursts, giving off an odor so foul that if it is not thrown out of the trenches immediately the soldiers faint. The gas is not fatal in its effects.

FATE OF ONE UNKNOWN.

Three Other Russian Destroyers Left Port Arthur.

London, Nov. 21.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says that the steamer Lienshing, from Chefoo, reports that three other Russian torpedo boat destroyers left Port Arthur with the destroyer Rastoropny. The Japanese stopped two of them and the fate of the third is unknown.

CATTLE TRAINS COLLIDE.

Two Drovers Killed in Baltimore and Ohio Wreck.

Washington, Pa., Nov. 21.—In a collision between two cattle trains on the Baltimore and Ohio road at Wyandot station, S. E. Wilson, a drover of New Concord, O., was burned to death and Frank McCoy, a drover from the same place, was crushed to death. Both trains were eastbound and the accident happened at the water tank where the first section had stopped to take water. The engineer of the second section claims no flagman warned him and he did not see the first section until within five car lengths. When he saw the collision was inevitable he and his fireman jumped to safety. Of the five drovers occupying the caboose of the first train, three escaped by jumping, but Wilson and McCoy were burned too late. Wilson was burned to a crisp in the fire that immediately followed the collision and McCoy was pinned between the caboose and the car ahead. The train men were compelled to cut off his leg to save him from being burned to death, but he died soon after being released.

ROBBERS SLAY SLEEPING MAN.

Freight Train Workers Add Murder to Their List of Crimes.

Minneapolis, Nov. 21.—Heino Lundeen, aged twenty-three, of Moorhead, Minn., was murdered by freight train robbers a short distance north of Elk River.

In company with four friends and two men who are not known to the members of the party of which Lundeen was a member, Lundeen boarded a combination mail and baggage car at Staples.

When near Elk River the two men aroused Lundeen's four companions and relieved them of three watches and $50 in money. Lundeen was difficult to arouse and his apparent indifference to the kicks of the robbers seemed to exasperate them, for one of them drew a revolver and fired two shots at Lundeen, one of which killed him instantly and narrowly missed Adolph Berquist, who was one of the party.

The four survivors of the holdup were forced to jump from the train, which was running at a high rate of speed.

TAKE MEN FOR DEER.

Hunters Fatally Wound Section Man in Twilight.

Duluth, Nov. 21.—News has arrived here from the Rainy River country that Captain John Reedman and Hibbard Martin of Port Frances had fired on a section crew pumping a handcar under the impression the men were running deer, fatally wounding one.

Joseph Blandro was hard hit and another man slightly wounded.

The men leaped from the car when they found they were being fired on. They were coming out of a gravel pit, on a spur track from the main line of the Canadian Northern, when the accident happened.

Darkness was closing in when the shooting was done and led to the mistake by the hunters.

THOUSAND MEN AFFECTED.

Heinze Restrained From Working the Minnie Healy Mine.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 21.—Judge Clancy has issued a restraining order preventing F. A. Heinze from working the Minnie Healy mine here. The appeal from a decision of Judge Clancy awarding this mine to Heinze is now pending in the supreme court of Montana.

By the closing down of the Minnie Healy 1,000 men will be affected.

The present action is based on the allegation that the Minnie Healy people are taking ore from adjoining properties belonging to the Amalgamated Copper company.

MINNESOTA POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Holland, Minn., Nov. 21.—The post office in a store here was burglarized during the night and about $125 in money and stamps were secured. The robbers broke a window light in the rear of the building to gain entrance, and they blew open the safe.

CHIPPWA TIMBER SALE BIG.

Land Office Has Sold $5,500,000 Worth of Property in Year.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The commissioners of the general land office has been notified of the sale of $800,000 worth of timber on ceded lands belonging to the Chippewa Indians in Minnesota. The land office during the last twelve months has disposed of $3,000,000 worth of timber and $2,500,000 worth of land belonging to Indians.

GENERAL VON LOEWENFELD.

General von Loewenfeld, one of the special commissioners sent to the unveiling by the emperor, and Charlemagne Tower, ambassador to Germany.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Hailed by a military band of twenty trumpets the bronze statue of Frederick the Great, presented to the American people by Emperor William, was unveiled by the Baroness Speck von Sternburg, the wife of the German ambassador.

The ceremony was marked by great military and official display.

The statue was presented on behalf of the emperor by his personal envoy, the German ambassador, who made a brief address.

The president made the chief address of the day and accepted the gift on behalf of the American people.

Remarks were made by Lieutenant

General Chaffee, chief of staff; Major

Gillespie of the general staff, master of ceremonies; Lieutenant

General von Loewenfeld, one of the special commissioners sent to the unveiling by the emperor, and Charlemagne Tower, ambassador to Germany.

In accepting for the people the gift of the emperor President Roosevelt replied eloquently of the career of Frederick the Great and voiced a hope that Germany and America will continue in close friendship.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—The suspense engendered by the Japanese attack on Poutiloff hill continues. This movement has proved unsuccessful. It aimed merely to capture a Russian position, but whether it was intended to mask activity at some other point along the front has not yet developed. Some correspondents note what they consider significant Japanese movements on the Russian right and others that a Japanese column is moving fifty or sixty miles eastward; but the opinion in military circles seems to be that no great movement is likely to occur before the fate of Port Arthur is decided. At the same time it is recalled here that General Kuropatkin's great aggressive movement of last month was in full swing a week before the outside world realized what was occurring.

REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVING.

Another General Attack on Port Arthur Imminent.

Chefoo, Nov. 21.—Another attack on Elze mountain is expected to occur Nov. 24, according to Chinese who left Dalny yesterday. The Chinese further report that reinforcements for the Japanese continue to arrive. For the past ten days 1,000 men have arrived daily. On Nov. 14 the Chinese say they saw fifty guns brought into Dalny. Some were broken, others were in good condition. The Japanese said they had captured them. They also saw 150 prisoners, including three officers, brought in. Some of the citizens of Dalny expected that the attack Nov. 24 would be general, Elze mountain being the chief object of the attack. Five more heavy guns recently arrived from Japan.

STRONG RUSSIAN DEFENSES.

Jap Assault on Poutiloff Hill Easily Repulsed.

Mukden, Nov. 21.—The Japanese attack on Poutiloff hill has demonstrated the efficiency of the Russian defensive works. Two battalions engaged in the attack occupied the first line of the Russian trenches, but at the second line were caught in pits and entanglements and exposed to a galling fire. A Russian bayonet attack completed their demoralization.

There are many rumors of Japanese activity on both banks, but there is nothing tending to show that a general engagement is more imminent than heretofore.

Capture Another Position.

Tokio, Nov. 21.—It is reported that the Japanese, after successfully mining, occupied a counterscarp on Sung-shu mountain last Friday.

Kuropatkin Reports All Quiet.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—General Kuropatkin telegraphs that there was no fighting the night of Nov. 18-19.

LOOKS LIKE A SAUSAGE.

Japs Using a Peculiar Missile at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Nov. 21.—The local Russian consul has received from Port Arthur a letter describing the use by the Japanese of a peculiar missile. This missile looks like a long sausage. The Japanese throw it into the trenches and it bursts, giving off an odor so foul that if it is not thrown out of the trenches immediately the soldiers faint. The gas is not fatal in its effects.

FATE OF ONE UNKNOWN.

Three Other Russian Destroyers Left Port Arthur.

London, Nov. 21.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says that the steamer Lienshing, from Chefoo, reports that three other Russian torpedo boat destroyers left Port Arthur with the destroyer Rastropov. The Japanese stopped two of them and the fate of the third is unknown.

CATTLE TRAINS COLLIDE.

Two Drovers Killed in Baltimore and Ohio Wreck.

Washington, Pa., Nov. 21.—In a collision between two cattle trains on the Baltimore and Ohio road at Wyman station, S. E. Wilson, a drover of New Concord, O., was burned to death and Frank McCoy, a drover from the same place, was crushed to death. Both trains were eastbound and the accident happened at the water tank where the first section had stopped to take water. The engineer of the second section claims no flagman warned him and he did not see the first section until within five car lengths. When he saw the collision was inevitable he and his freeman jumped to safety. Of the five drovers occupying the caboose of the first train, three escaped by jumping, but Wilson and McCoy were burned too late. Wilson was burned to a crisp in the fire that immediately followed the collision and McCoy was pinned between the caboose and the car ahead. The train men were compelled to cut off his leg to save him from being burned to death, but he died soon after being released.

ROBBERS SLAY SLEEPING MAN.

Freight Train Workers Add Murder to Their List of Crimes.

Minneapolis, Nov. 21.—Heino Lundeen, aged twenty-three, of Moorhead, Minn., was murdered by freight train robbers a short distance north of Elk River.

In company with four friends and two men who are not known to the members of the party of which Lundeen was a member, Lundeen boarded a combination mail and baggage car at Staples.

When near Elk River the two men aroused Lundeen's four companions and relieved them of three watches and $50 in money. Lundeen was difficult to arouse and his apparent indifference to the kicks of the robbers seemed to exasperate them, for one of them drew a revolver and fired two shots at Lundeen, one of which killed him instantly and narrowly missed Adolph Berquist, who was one of the party.

The four survivors of the holdup were forced to jump from the train, which was running at a high rate of speed.

TAKE MEN FOR DEER.

Hunters Fatally Wound Section Man in Twilight.

Duluth, Nov. 21.—News has arrived here from the Rainy River country that Captain John Reedman and Hibbard Martin of Port Frances had fired on a section crew pumping a handcar under the impression the men were running deer, fatally wounding one.

Joseph Biandro was hard hit and another man slightly wounded.

The men leaped from the car when they found they were being fired on. They were coming out of a gravel pit, on a spur track from the main line of the Canadian Northern, when the accident happened.

Darkness was closing in when the shooting was done and led to the mistake by the hunters.

THOUSAND MEN AFFECTED.

Heinze Restrained From Working the Minnie Healy Mine.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 21.—Judge Clancy has issued a restraining order preventing F. A. Heinze from working the Minnie Healy mine here. The appeal from a decision of Judge Clancy awarding this mine to Heinze is now pending in the supreme court of Montana.

By the closing down of the Minnie Healy 1,000 men will be affected.

The present action is based on the allegation that the Minnie Healy people are taking ore from adjoining properties belonging to the Amalgamated Copper company.

Minnesota Postoffice Robbed.

Holland, Minn., Nov. 21.—The post office in a store here was burglarized during the night and about $125 in money and stamps were secured. The robbers broke a window light in the rear of the building to gain entrance.

They blew open the safe.

SALE

This will be the First Genuine Great Stove Sale ever held in Brainerd; the particular difference between this sale and the many other sales going on at the present time, is that we do not oblige you to pay spot cash to get the benefit of it.

We have fifty-one different kinds of Heaters and six varieties of Ranges and we have to keep about five hundred stoves on hand to back up these samples, and our store is so crowded with goods that we haven't room even to show such a large variety of samples.

What we want to do this fall is to close out this entire stock so as to start in next season with a smaller variety and consequently smaller stock. We would rather sell all of these stoves on the installment plan than to sell only part of them for cash and carry the balance over another year, and we would rather you would have the use and comfort of a good Heater or Range and pay for it at your convenience than to keep them in our warehouse where they are doing no one any good.

It is rather an unusual proceeding to offer goods on the installment plan at a closing out sale, therefore we have explained our reasons as above, to convince you that we mean business.

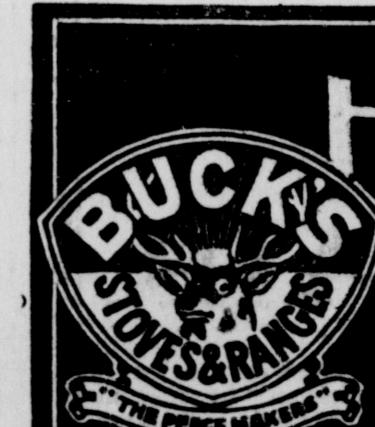

Come in and see what Bargains we have to offer is all we ask.

JEALOUS WIFE KILLS HERSELF

A Dramatic Scene Enacted at the Home of Jewell Blackmer Southeast of Deerwood

FIRES BULLET INTO HER TEMPLE

Mrs. Blackmer Was Madly Jealous of Her Husband and Decided to End Her Life.

"Jewell—Be happy if you can."

Eva.

November 19, 1904.
"I should prefer not to have any religious ceremony held over my remains. There need be no coroner's inquest. I now say I shall end my life by a bullet in the right temple fired from a 32 calibre revolver."

Eva Blackmer.

P. S.—I guess Jewell thought he hid the shells but I had these saved a month ago. It is almost 9:30 p. m."

Madly jealous until every fibre in her system fairly quivered and the constant brooding over a false delusion that her life partner did not love her, Mrs. Eva Blackmer on Saturday night fired a bullet into her right temple and died a few minutes later in the arms of her heart-broken husband.

This is brief is the story of one of the most pathetic homicides that has been chronicled in this county in many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Blackmer live four miles southeast of Deerwood in this county where they have by constant attention to the details of a small farm, managed to acquire enough of this world's goods to be comfortable. During the slack seasons it had been Mr. Blackmer's custom to go to North Dakota with his team and work. In this way he was absent from home considerable of the time and his wife soon became jealous and labored under a false delusion that he was not exactly true to her. The neighbors who have known Mr. Blackmer state that there was no ground for this thought at all, but they always thought him to be one of the most attentive men to his home and wife in that vicinity.

A short time ago while Mr. Blackmer was working in North Dakota Mrs. Blackmer sent for him to come home at once. It was learned on his return that his wife had been brooding over the thought and was growing insanely jealous. They talked the matter over and Mrs. Blackmer seemed content just so she had her husband at her side.

On Saturday evening they sat in their little home and as three of the small children had gone to bed and the oldest boy, Jewell, had gone to a spelling school near by there was another opportunity for the couple to discuss their domestic trouble. Mrs. Blackmer accused him of being cold but he talked to her in a manner that he thought would have the desired effect. He wanted her to understand that his love for her had not grown cold. They talked in a quiet manner for some time. There was no quarrel and not a harsh word was spoken.

en. Finally he bade his wife good night and retired. This was about 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Blackmer sat at the table writing and it was there in the still of the night while her babies and husband were asleep she penned the missive given above. She wrote in a plain and intelligent hand and from the composition it is evident that she was in control of her full senses. At the moment she was writing this parting message her heart was evidently burning with love for her husband, for she was very careful and minute in writing the note to make it clear that she had committed suicide so that no blame could be attached to the one whom she loved so much.

She had a piece of ordinary note paper and at first wrote with pen and ink at the very top of the sheet:

"Jewell—Be happy if you can."

Eva."

Then as though a second thought had struck her and wishing to clear her husband of any crime she started to write again as follows:

"Nov. 19, 1904.

"I should prefer not to have any religious ceremony over my remains. There need be no coroner's inquest. I now say I shall end my life by a bullet in the right temple fired from a 32 calibre revolver."

Eva BLACKMER."

Then it is presumed that she got up to find the revolver and after finding it went back to the table and this time with a lead pencil added these few words to the note:

"I guess Jewell thought he hid all the shells but I had these saved a month ago. It is almost 9:30 p. m."

She then laid the note on the table and walked out to the side of the house and followed the evident intent of the note to the letter. She shot herself in the right temple. The husband, who was in bed, heard the report of the gun, but thought it was a door slamming and did not pay much attention to it for the time being. Finally a small dog on the outside began to bark rather loudly and Mr. Blackmer got up and went out and was horrified to find his wife lying in a pool of blood. He hastened to one of the nearest neighbors, Mr. Peterson's and they hurried back to the Blackmer home. The woman was carried into the house. Life was not yet extinct and Mr. Peterson hastened to Deerwood and Dr. Reid was taken out at once. Just as the doctor arrived at the house the woman breathed her last. She did not regain consciousness after the shot was fired and died with her lips sealed.

The Blackmers are very well thought of at Deerwood and the affair has created a gloom over the entire neighborhood. Mrs. Blackmer comes from a good family in Fillmore county where she was born.

Coroner Osterlund was called to Deerwood yesterday but found that it was not necessary to hold an inquest.

The man who hesitates, whose eye is dull, whose step is slow, whose mind is sluggish, whose hands tremble, is not the man whom an employer seeks. It is the bright man, the man with the clear eye and brain; the active man, full of energy, life and vigor, whose very manner and presence breeds success that is sought for and snapped up as soon as seen, and it seems almost pitiful that first class, victims of success of some sort, should exist, when it needs but a thorough course of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to round them into the old-time feeling of physical, intellectual and manly vigor again.

Mr. Fred Hoyt of No. 724 6th Ave. New Brighton, Pa., says:

"I used to have a hand so steady I could write the Lord's prayer on a twenty-five cent piece—then as a result of overwork and overstrain my eyes gave out and my hands and nerves generally became trembly. I was restless and could not sleep. I certainly was in bad shape and lost my ability to write—could just scrawl. I heard of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and got some and they took hold immediately. I began to sleep—gain strength—my nerves grew steady and my eyesight improved greatly. Today I feel finely and can again write as well as ever, and that means a very steady nerve." 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of A. W. JEALOUS WIFE KILLS HERSELF

FIRES BULLET INTO HER TEMPLE

Mrs. Blackmer Was Madly Jealous of Her Husband and Decided to End Her Life.

"Jewell—Be happy if you can.

Eva.

November 19, 1904.
I should prefer not to have any religious ceremony held over my remains. There need be no coroner's inquest. I now say I shall end my life by a bullet in the right temple fired from a 32 calibre revolver.

Eva Blackmer.
P. S.—I guess Jewell thought he hid the shells but I had these saved a month ago. It is almost 9:30 p. m.:

Madly jealous until every fibre in her system fairly quivered and the constant brooding over a false delusion that her life partner did not love her, Mrs. Eva Blackmer on Saturday night fired a bullet into her right temple and died a few minutes later in the arms of her heart-broken husband.

This in brief is the story of one of the most pathetic homicides that has been chronicled in this county in many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Blackmer live four miles southeast of Deerwood in this county where they have by constant attention to the details of a small farm, managed to acquire enough of this world's goods to be comfortable. During the slack seasons it had been Mr. Blackmer's custom to go to North Dakota with his team and work. They talked in a quiet manner for some time. There was no quarrel and not a harsh word was spoken.

en. Finally he bade his wife good night and retired. This was about 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Blackmer sat at the table writing and it was there in the still of the night while her babies and husband were asleep she penned the missive given above. She wrote in a plain and intelligent hand and from the composition it is evident that she was in control of her full senses. At the moment she was writing this parting message her heart was evidently burning with love for her husband, for she was very careful and minute in writing the note to make it clear that she had committed suicide so that no blame could be attached to the one whom she loved so much.

Then it is presumed that she got up to find the revolver and after finding it went back to the table and this time with a lead pencil added these few words to the note:

"I guess Jewell thought he hid all the shells but I had these saved a month ago. It is almost 9:30 p. m."

She then laid the note on the table and walked out to the side of the house and followed the evident intent of the note to the letter. She shot herself in the right temple. MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"JOSHUA SIMPKINS."

The attraction at the Brainerd opera house Thanksgiving, matinee and night, will be the "Joshua Simpkins" company. It is a rural comedy drama, opening with a scene of rural home life, showing Skinner Tavern with Uncle Josh's Wild Briar farm in the distance. The play progresses, abounding with interesting situations, until the climax is reached, in the third act, when a human being is helplessly bound to a log to be cut in twain by a mammoth buzz saw, and is only saved by the timely arrival of Uncle Josn. "Joshua Simpkins" was written with a view of keeping an audience thoroughly amused, and it fully carries out the author's intention. The plot is not allowed to interfere with the comedy parts to any extent, thus producing a play that is interesting and said to contain many laughs. The company carries a fine orchestra and the laughable burlesque band and has a large number of specialties.

MR. WALKER WHITESIDE.

The Brainerd lodge of Elks are hustling tickets for the performance to be given in this city next Friday evening by Mr. Walker Whiteside and his excellent company and they are going fast.

Mr. Whiteside has secured a new play entitled "David Garrick's Love," dealing with an incident in the life of David Garrick, the great English actor. The play in part is founded upon a French adaptation from a German dramatization from which T. W. Robertson adapted his comedy, "David Garrick." Mr. Whiteside's version deals with several incidents in Garrick's life, all of which are romantic and thoroughly interesting. The famous scene in Robertson's comedy where David Garrick pretends to be drunk in order to disillusionize a young woman who has fallen desperately in love with him, will be retained. Apart from this scene the play is entirely original. It was Mr. Whiteside's intention to produce his repertoire of Shakespearean plays during the coming season, but upon receipt of the ms. of the "Garrick" play he immediately commenced preparations for its production and will play it almost exclusively throughout the season.

MAUD ULMER JONES.

One of the most pleasurable events of the season in the musical line will be the concert to be given at the First Congregational church tomorrow evening by Maud Ulmer Jones. The following excellent program will be rendered:

"O, Had I Jubal's Lyre".....Handel
"The Lost Chord".....Sullivan
"My True Love".....Arthur Foote
"When Song is Sweet".....
"Wishes".....Gertrude Sans Souci
"Under the Juniper Tree".....Hollander
"Gray Rocks and Grayer Sea".....
"Daisies".....Hawley

Coleman-Moxie Match.

Considerable interest is being taken in the big wrestling match to be pulled off on Saturday evening of this week at Gardner hall between Frank Coleman and Oscar Moxie. Frank Coleman is the man who recently won a match at Aitkin against O'Neill and who claims to be the middle weight champion of the world. Oscar Moxie is well known in this city through his connection with Chas. Moth in the two matches in this city during the summer.

The men are going on the mat for a finish match, the best two out of three falls, and the event should be a very interesting one.

A Narrow Escape.

Mr. Henry St. George, of Elm Grove, Wis., thought that he was permanently crippled. JEALOUS WIFE KILLS HERSELF

A Dramatic Scene Enacted at the Home of Jewell Blackmer Southeast of Deerwood

FIRES BULLET INTO HER TEMPLE

Mrs. Blackmer Was Madly Jealous of Her Husband and Decided to End Her Life.

"Jewell—Be happy if you can."

Eva.

November 19, 1904.
"I should prefer not to have any religious ceremony held over my remains. There need be no coroner's inquest. I now say I shall end my life by a bullet in the right temple fired from a 32 calibre revolver."

Eva Blackmer.

P.S.—I guess Jewell thought he hid the shells but I had these saved a month ago. It is almost 9:30 p.m.:

Madly jealous until every fibre in her system fairly quivered and the constant brooding over a false delusion that her life partner did not love her, Mrs. Eva Blackmer on Saturday night fired a bullet into her right temple and died a few minutes later in the arms of her heart-broken husband.

This in brief is the story of one of the most pathetic homicides that has been chronicled in this county in many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Blackmer live four miles southeast of Deerwood in this county where they have by constant attention to the details of a small farm, managed to acquire enough of this world's goods to be comfortable. During the slack seasons it had been Mr. Blackmer's custom to go to North Dakota with his team and work. In this way he was absent from home considerable of the time and his wife soon became jealous and labored under a false delusion that he was not exactly true to her. The neighbors who have known Mr. Blackmer state that there was no ground for this thought at all, but they always thought him to be one of the most attentive men to his home and wife in that vicinity.

A short time ago while Mr. Blackmer was working in North Dakota Mrs. Blackmer sent for him to come home at once. It was learned on his return that his wife had been brooding over the thought and was growing insanely jealous. They talked the matter over and Mrs. Blackmer seemed content just so she had her husband at her side.

On Saturday evening they sat in their little home and as three of the small children had gone to bed and the oldest boy, Jewell, had gone to a spelling school near by there was another opportunity for the couple to discuss their domestic trouble. Mrs. Blackmer accused him of being cold but he talked to her in a manner that he thought would have the desired effect. He wanted her to understand that his love for her had not grown cold. They talked in a quiet manner for some time. There was no quarrel and not a harsh word was spoken.

The Pioneer Jeweler,

en. Finally he bade his wife good night and retired. This was about 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Blackmer sat at the table writing and it was there in the still of the night while her babies and husband were asleep she penned the missive given above. She wrote in a plain and intelligent hand and from the composition it is evident that she was in control of her full senses. At the moment she was writing this parting message her heart was evidently burning with love for her husband, for she was very careful and minute in writing the note to make it clear that she had committed suicide so that no blame could be attached to the one whom she loved so much.

She had a piece of ordinary note paper and at first wrote with pen and ink at the very top of the sheet:

"Jewell—Be happy if you can."

Eva."

Then as though a second thought had struck her and wishing to clear her husband of any crime she started to write again as follows:

"Nov. 19, 1904.

"I should prefer not to have any religious ceremony over my remains. There need be no coroner's inquest. I now say I shall end my life by a bullet in the right temple fired from a 32 calibre revolver."

EVA BLACKMER."

Then it is presumed that she got up to find the revolver and after finding it went back to the table and this time with a lead pencil added these few words to the note:

"I guess Jewell thought he had all the shells but I had these saved a month ago. It is almost 9:30 p.m."

She then laid the note on the table and walked out to the side of the house and followed the evident intent of the note to the letter. She shot herself in the right temple. The husband, who was in bed, heard the report of the gun, but thought it was a door slamming and did not pay much attention to it for the time being.

Finally a small dog on the outside began to bark rather loudly and Mr. Blackmer got up and went out and was horrified to find his wife lying in a pool of blood. He hastened to one of the nearest neighbors, Mr. Peterson's and they hurried back to the Blackmer home. The woman was carried into the house. Life was not yet extinct and Mr. Peterson hastened to Deerwood and Dr. Reid was taken out at once.

Just as the doctor arrived at the house the woman breathed her last. She did not regain consciousness after the shot was fired and died with her lips sealed.

The Blackmers are very well thought of at Deerwood and the affair has created a gloom over the entire neighborhood. Mrs. Blackmer comes from a good family in Filmore county where she was born.

Coroner Osterlund was called to Deerwood yesterday but found that it was not necessary to hold an inquest.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

The Bachelor Maids charity ball will be on Wednesday evening, November 30, as previously announced. The ladies are making great preparations for the event.

Mrs. Fanny Smith and Mrs. J. M. Elder entertained the members of the "500" club Saturday afternoon at the home of the former. A very pleasant afternoon was spent. Mrs. C. M. Patek won first prize and Mrs. F. W. Wieland second prize.

Mr. John T. Imgrund was pleasantly surprised last night by the Germania Maennerchor, who called upon him in a body at his residence and assisted him in celebrating his birthday anniversary. A fine musical program was rendered, Mr. Imgrund taking a prominent part. The evening's enjoyment was concluded with a fine supper.

The wedding of Mr. E. L. Steiger and Miss Helen C. Murphy will be solemnized on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Francis' Catholic church. Both young people are well and favorable known in this city.

There will be a "Maccabee Coffee" tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. C. Herman, 1201, Sixth street south. All Maccabee ladies are invited.

A party of Royal Neighbors surprised Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hurley at their home in Southeast Brainerd Friday evening, it being the 20th anniversary of their wedding day. They were the recipients of some very handsome presents. Refreshments concluded a very pleasant evening.

Hope Hose company, No. 1, will give its annual ball on Wednesday evening in Gardner hall. This company has always been known to give the best dances of the year in this city and it is more than likely that the hall will be packed that evening.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"JOSHUA SIMPKINS."

The attraction at the Brainerd opera house Thanksgiving, matinee and night, will be the "Joshua Simpkins" company. It is a rural comedy drama, opening with a scene of rural home life, showing Skinner Tavern with Uncle Josh's Wild Briar farm in the distance. The play progresses, abounding with interesting situations, until the climax is reached, in the third act, when a human being is helplessly bound to a log to be cut in twain by a mammoth buzz saw, and is only saved by the timely arrival of Uncle Josn. "Joshua Simpkins" was written with a view of keeping an audience thoroughly amused, and it fully carries out the author's intention. The plot is not allowed to interfere with the comedy parts to any extent, thus producing a play that is interesting and said to contain many laughs. The company carries a fine orchestra and the laughable burlesque band and has a large number of specialties.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

Man Found Dead in Automobile on Lonely Road.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Diligent search by a score of detectives during the day in the vicinity of Lemont failed to throw any light on the mystery surrounding the murder of William Dove, who was shot and killed and his body left in an automobile at a lonely spot on Archer park Sunday morning. Many new clues were discovered by the detectives, but up to a late hour nothing of a tangible nature bearing on the murder had been learned.

Everybody immediately concerned in the case seems to have a different theory concerning the motive of the murder. J. W. Bate, father of the dead chauffeur, declares that his son had no love affairs and scorns the idea that an entanglement of this sort might have led to the murder. The police are proceeding on the belief that two murders were committed and that Dove was killed to conceal the first murder. It is the opinion of the detectives that "Dove," the person who rented the automobile, had a companion, presumably a woman. This person, the police believe, was made away with by "Dove," and the body secreted in the woods or among the quarries that skirt the vicinity where Dove's body was found. Going on this theory the detectives on the case began a systematic search of the surrounding country for the body of the other person who is supposed to have been murdered.

RACE WAR IN IOWA.

White Miner Shot and Fatally Injured by Negro.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 21.—Race war is regarded as imminent at Fraser, Ia., where Thomas Albright, a white miner, was Saturday night shot and mortally wounded by James Price, a negro. The white miners held a meeting during the afternoon and voted to refuse to work longer with the negroes. They accused the negroes of having aided Price to make his escape and the feeling is intense. There are from thirty-five to fifty negroes in the mining camp and about 1,200 whites. Both sides are heavily armed.

A negro, thought to be Price, was seen near Ogden, seven or eight miles from Fraser. He answers the description of the man wanted and on seeing that he was discovered concealed himself in a corn field. A posse from Ogden is searching for him and another body of miners from Ogden is working the river in that direction, while still another body is making a thorough search of all the negro units in Fraser.

If Price is caught it is believed that the miners, in their present frame of mind, will do him violence.

Albright is still alive, but the doctors say he cannot survive.

BLAZE IN BROOKLYN

TWELVE ITALIANS PERISH IN FIRE WHICH DESTROYS TENEMENT BUILDING.

TWO FAMILIES WIPE OUT

VICTIMS WERE UNABLE TO GET TO FIRE ESCAPES OWING TO DENSE SMOKE.

New York, Nov. 21.—Smothered before they could reach the rear fire escape in a burning tenement building at 186 Troutman street, in the Williamsburg district of Brooklyn, twelve persons met death shortly before 2 o'clock a. m.

Two entire families, those of Mario Triolo and Charles Polognino, are wiped out, the last living member of each being now in a hospital, with no hope of their recovery. They are Charles Polognino, thirty-three years old, and Tony Triolo, thirteen years old, both of whom are terribly burned. Although in the opinion of the coroner, all the dead were suffocated, the bodies were badly burned before they could be taken from the ruins by the firemen.

The burned tenement house is in the center of a row of three-story tenements extending the length of the block and was occupied by Italians.

The fire is supposed to have started in the cellar of the grocery store of Antonio Giambalvos, on the ground floor. The cellar was stored with inflammable material and the flames spread with lightning-like rapidity. All the occupants were asleep at the time and there was considerable delay in sending in the first alarm.

The Giambalvos family lived in the rear of the store and succeeded in getting out of the building, but before the occupants on the two other floors were roused their Escape Had Been Cut Off.

All the bodies were found in the rear room of the third floor and it was evident that all had been suffocated in their effort to reach the fire escape at the back of the building. The two who were rescued were found in the lower hallway soon after the firemen reached the scene. Working their way through the building the rescuers discovered the heap of dead on the third floor and within a short time succeeded in taking out nine bodies, but the last was not found until after 8 o'clock a. m.

In their investigation as to the origin of the fire the police have been unable to obtain a statement of any kind from neighboring tenants. The street about the burned building has been crowded with Italians all day, but the police report that everyone questioned regarding the persons burned or the occupants of the building has refused to make any answer. It was with great difficulty that even the names of the victims could be obtained.

The dead are: The mother and two children of the Polognino family, Mario Triolo, his wife and three children, Marie Ambrosio, and her eighteen-year-old daughter, Mary Galligoni, aged eighteen and Lenora Cossopoli, aged thirty.

BURNS TO WATER'S EDGE.

Crew of Seventeen Men Barely Escape From Steamer.

Sandusky, O., Nov. 21.—The coal steamer Philip Minch, light on its way from Fairport to Sandusky, O., was burned to the water's edge about eight miles east of Marblehead at midnight. The crew of seventeen men was forced to abandon the burning boat while several miles out in the lake and reached Sandusky in an exhausted condition, many of them half naked because of having been roused from sleep. The fire started in the stern of the boat from a cause not determined. Captain B. A. Benson ordered the men off in a yawl boat at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The crew lost all they possessed.

GOOD NEWS FROM BIG JEWEL

Word Received from the Superintendent of the Mine that they had Water and were now Mining

Good news has been received in the city from Port Orford, where the Big Jewel mine is located, which will very welcome to a large number of stockholders in this city. The telegram is from C. A. Jamieson, superintendent of the mine, and he states that he has got the water running and is now mining.

Great interest has been taken in the Big Jewel in this city from the first. It has been confidently thought that there is plenty of gold in this mine, but the obstacle to overcome was the securing of water. This is what Mr. Jamieson has been doing and the work has taken considerable time and money, but the feat of getting water down to the mine, five miles distance, has been accomplished and it would seem now as though the prospects were very bright for all interested.

Brainerd People.

When a resident of Brainerd, whose statement appears below, who has no monetary or other interest in the article which he endorses, who is anxious to do his acquaintances and fellow residents a good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills—that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind on this subject:

J. Hazadorn, of 123 Ninth St. north, says: "For thirty years I had more or less trouble with my kidneys. Some at tacks laid me up, while during others my back ached so severely that I could not sleep at night nor work during the day. On many occasions I could not stand and talk to a man for two or three minutes without suffering with twinges across the small of my back which radiated toward the shoulders. As time passed by the complaint became more pronounced and difficult with the kidney secretions set in. As might be expected I tried everything when the attacks occurred to check them, but if I had met with any marked degree of success I never would have resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills. When suffering severely I went to a drug store and got a box. I expected the results would be similar to those obtained by using other preparations. In twenty four hours I changed my mind. I noticed they were acting totally different to anything hitherto tried and encouraged I kept on with the treatment until I finished two boxes. Now I may have recurrences, but at the present moment, and it is some time since I stopped the treatment, I have not a symptom of my old complaint. To anyone interested I will be only too pleased to give minute details and substantiate the above statement in a personal interview."

MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

Man Found Dead in Automobile on Locally Known.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Diligent search by a score of detectives during the day in the vicinity of Lemont, Illinois, to throw any light on the mystery surrounding the murder of William Bate, who was shot and killed on his way home in an automobile at a lonely spot on Archer road Saturday morning. Many new clues were discovered by the detectives, but up to a late hour nothing of a tangible nature bearing on the murder had been learned.

Everybody immediately concerned in the case seems to have a different theory concerning the motive of the murderer. J. W. Hare, father of the dead chauffeur, declares that his son had no love affairs and scouts the idea that an entanglement of this sort might have led to the murder. The police are proceeding on the belief that two murders were committed and that Bate was killed to conceal the first murder. It is the opinion of the detectives that "Dove," the person who rented the automobile, had a companion, presumably a woman. This person, the police believe, was made away with by "Dove," and the body secreted in the woods or among the quarries that skirt the vicinity where Bate's body was found. Going on this theory the detectives on the case began a systematic search of the surrounding country for the body of the other person who is supposed to have been murdered.

RACE WAR IN IOWA.

White Miner Shot and Fatally Injured by Negro.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 21.—Race war is regarded as imminent at Fraser, Ia., where Thomas Albright, a white miner, was Saturday night shot and mortally wounded by James Price, a negro. The white miners held a meeting during the afternoon and voted to refuse to work longer with the negroes. They accused the negroes of having aided Price to make his escape and the feeling is intense. There are from thirty-five to fifty negroes in the mining camp and about 1,200 whites. Both sides are heavily armed.

A negro, thought to be Price, was seen near Osgood, seven or eight miles from Fraser. He answers the description of the man wanted and on seeing that he was discovered concealed himself in a corn field. A posse from Osgood is searching for him and another body of miners from Osgood is working the river in that direction, while still another body is making a thorough search of all the negro hills in Fraser.

If Price is caught it is believed that the miners, in their present frame of mind, will do him violence.

Albright is still alive, but the doctors say he cannot survive.

BLAZE IN BROOKLYN

TWELVE ITALIANS PERISH IN FIRE WHICH DESTROYS TENEMENT BUILDING.

TWO FAMILIES WIPE OUT

VICTIMS WERE UNABLE TO GET TO FIRE ESCAPES OWING TO DENSE SMOKE.

New York, Nov. 21.—Smothered before they could reach the rear fire escape in a burning tenement building at 186 Troutman street, in the Williamsburg district of Brooklyn, twelve persons met death shortly before 2 o'clock a. m.

Two entire families, those of Mariano Triolo and Charles Polognino, are wiped out, the last living member of each being now in a hospital, with no hope of their recovery. They are Charles Polognino, thirty-three years old, and Tony Triolo, thirteen years old, both of whom are terribly burned. Although in the opinion of the coroner, all the dead were suffocated, the bodies were badly burned before they could be taken from the ruins by the firemen.

The burned tenement house is in the center of a row of three-story tenements extending the length of the block and was occupied by Italians.

The fire is supposed to have started in the cellar of the grocery store of Antonio Giambalvino, on the ground floor. The cellar was stored with inflammable material and the flames spread with lightning-like rapidity. All the occupants were asleep at the time and there was considerable delay in sending in the first alarm.

The Giambalvino family lived in the rear of the store and succeeded in getting out of the building, but before the occupants on the two other floors were roused their Escape Had Been Cut Off.

All the bodies were found in the rear room of the third floor and it was evident that all had been suffocated in their effort to reach the fire escape at the back of the building. The two who were rescued were found in the lower hallway soon after the firemen reached the scene. Working their way through the building the rescuers discovered the heap of dead on the third floor and within a short time succeeded in taking out nine bodies, but the last was not found until after 8 o'clock a. m.

In their investigation as to the origin of the fire the police have been unable to obtain a statement of any kind from neighboring tenants. The street about the burned building has been crowded with Italians all day, but the police report that everyone questioned regarding the persons burned or the occupants of the building has refused to make any answer. It was with great difficulty that even the names of the victims could be obtained.

The dead are: The mother and two children of the Polonio family, Mariano Triolo, his wife and three children, Marie, Ambrosio, and her eighteen-year-old daughter, Mary Galigoni, aged eighteen and Lorraine Cosselli, aged thirteen and Lorraine Cosselli, aged eighteen.

BURNS TO WATER'S EDGE.

Crew of Seventeen Men Barely Escape From Steamer.

Sandusky, O., Nov. 21.—The coal steamer Philip Minch, light, on its way from Fairport to Sandusky, O., was burned to the water's edge about eight miles east of Marblehead at midnight. The crew of seventeen men was forced to abandon the burning boat while several miles out in the lake and reached Sandusky in an exhausted condition, many of them half naked because of having been roused from sleep. The fire started in the stern of the boat from a cause not determined. Captain B. A. Benson ordered the men off in a yawl boat at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The crew lost all they possessed.

The Information Contained in this Citizen's Statement is Invaluable to Brainerd People.

When a resident of Brainerd, whose statement appears below, who has no monetary or other interest in the article which he endorses, who is anxious to do his acquaintances and fellow residents a good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills—that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind on this subject:

J. Hagedorn, of 123 Ninth St. north, says: "For thirty years I had more or less trouble with my kidneys. Some at times laid me up, while during others my back ached so severely that I could not sleep at night nor work during the day. On many occasions I could not stand and talk to a man for two or three minutes without suffering with twinges across the small of my back which radiated toward the shoulders. As time passed by the complaint became more pronounced and difficult with the kidney secretions set in. As might be expected I tried everything when the attacks occurred to check them, but if I had met with any marked degree of success I never would have resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills. When suffering severely I went to a drug store and got a box. I expected the results would be similar to those obtained by using other preparations. In twenty four hours I changed my mind. I noticed they were acting totally different to anything hitherto tried and encouraged I kept on with the treatment until I finished two boxes. Now I may have recurrences, but at the present moment, and it is some time since I stopped the treatment, I have not a symptom of my old complaint. To anyone interested I will be too pleased to give minute details and substantiate the above statement in a personal interview."

Sold for 50 cents a box by H. P. Dunn & Co. and all druggists. Foster Milk-Burn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

STEAMSHIP RUNS ASHORE.

Prince Line Vessel Fast on Long Island Beach.

New York, Nov. 21.—The Prince Line steamship Sicilian Prince, from Genoa and Naples, lies aground on the Long Island shore, one mile west of the Long Beach Lifesaving station. The steamer stranded just before daylight and all efforts throughout the day to get the ship into deeper water have proved futile.

Four tugs are standing by the vessel, and with hawsers made fast to bow and stern, by their united efforts, are keeping her from being washed further on the beach.
